

Dear Flute Festival Participant,

We are going happy to announce that Linda Chesis, renowned New York recitalist and Director of Woodwinds at Manhattan School of Music, is returning this year as our special guest. The dates of the festival are June 3,4, and 5 2010. This is a Thursday through Saturday. We will be doing master classes and hearing concerts from Ms. Chesis and also Dr. April Clayton, Professor of Flute at BYU - one of our festival coordinators.

This year Ms. Chesis will be able to stay over and do private lessons on Sunday morning. (There will be Church services to attend in Ephraim on Sunday morning and early afternoon for those who would like to stay.) Do take a lesson from her - she's great!

Cindy Henderson, professor of flute at Weber State University will be doing a special class, Canah Tedjamulia will be returning for positive performing techniques, and Christina Taylor will be doing a workshop on dance techniques for the performing flutist. As always the Festival staff - April Clayton, Elaine Jorgensen and Larry Gee will be performing and teaching. Bert Murdoch and Summerhays Music Companies will bring flutes and music for trying and buying on Saturday.

See the enclosed schedule for highlights of the festival.

Fill out and Sign the enclosed application to attend. Hope to see you all again this year for a wonderful flute experience!!!! Participants will need to bring sleeping bags, pillows, and towels, soap and personal items. Also bring something nice to wear for performing.

The directions to Snow College are: Take I-15 south to Exit 225 at Nephi. Go left under the highway and go up the canyon. Go through Fountain Green and Moroni, take right fork to "Ephraim, Snow College, and Manti" on road signs. When you come to the " T " intersection turn right on highway 89 to Ephraim (also well marked). Go to Center Street in Ephraim and turn left. Go to 3rd (300) East and park near the Eccles Performing Arts Building, which is on your left. Go into the lobby to sign up and get housing materials, etc. See you there!!!

Best Wishes,

Flute Festival Coordinators; Elaine Jorgensen and April Clayton
