

English 2430

Gothic & Supernatural Literature

"Listen to them, the children of the night. What music they make!"

—Dracula, Bram Stoker

Do you enjoy ghost stories? By exploring haunted houses, decaying castles, vampire crypts, and cemeteries imagined by some of the most terrifying authors of all time—including Edgar Allan Poe, Mary Shelley, Bram Stoker, Robert Louis Stevenson, and H. P. Lovecraft—ENGL 2430 offers a unique and haunting journey into the dark corners of an often-overlooked genre of literature: Gothic and Supernatural Horror.

Kade Parry — ENGL 2430: Gothic & Supernatural Literature — Fall 2020